

TAX REVISION
SUBMITTED TO
G. O. P. MEMBERS

Committee Turns Matter
Over to Republican Membership of House.

HAS RIGHT OF WAY

Pre-election Pledges of Party Carried Out By Action Monday.

Washington, August 15.—The tax revision prepared by Republican members of the house ways and means committee after consultation with President Harding, was submitted today to the Republican membership of the house for endorsement.

All legislative business before the house was suspended until there could be an agreement on the tax legislation and promise of party support for the measure when it is brought before the house Wednesday for consideration. The Republican leaders would take no chances of having it shot to pieces by amendments proposed either by dissatisfied Republicans or by the Democrats.

Republican Leader Mondell said today he had no doubt as to the final and hearty approval to be given the bill by the house Republicans. He claimed that it represented a successful effort to reduce and redistribute equitably the tax burdens on rich and poor alike. The revision of taxes proposed is estimated to reduce the tax yield about $600,000,000, or about $60 per capita.

Internal revenue taxes under the law as changed will produce an estimated $3,000,000,000 annually for support of the government.

Secretary Mellon estimates that something over $4,000,000,000 will be needed by the treasury during the next fiscal year. The additional $1,- 000,000,000 is to be made up from customs duties, miscellaneous receipts
salvage from sales of surplus war materials, increased receipts from back and current taxes, and reductions in expenditures by the government.

The tax revision submitted to the Republican conference today carries out the Republican pre-election pledges to repeal the excess profits taxes, transportation taxes and the heavy surtax on incomes in the interest of business rehabilitation and to get rid of the small taxes on ice cream, soda waters, luxuries and other things which have proved vexatious to the people.

The proposed increase in the corporation income tax is intended to absorb some of the losses from repeal of the taxes bearing heavily on business and a readjustment was made of the luxuries and nuisance taxes to place part of them on the manufacturer instead of on the consumer.

MERE BOYS STEAL
THREE AUTOMOBILES

Columbus, O., August 15.—In a flivver, said to have been stolen at Mansfield, two boys, Charles Kennedy and Rex Conrad each aged 14 years, reached Worthington, 10 miles north of here, when their supply of gasoline gave out.

There the lads are accused of having taken a medium priced car which they abandoned at the outskirts of the village when a county policeman came in sight.

Hiking to North Columbus, they were about to get away with a high priced machine, belonging to Glenn Robins, 375 Denmead Avenue, it is said when taken into custody by a policeman.

The boys were taken to the county jail preparatory to being returned to Mansfield.

SIX ARE KILLED
BY FAST TRAIN

Bowling, Green, Aug. 15.—Six persons, including an entire family
of three, a man, 78, and his niece and a woman 76 years old were killed at Weston, a village 10 miles west of here, last night when the auto in which they were riding was struck and demolished by a Toledo-bound Baltimore & Ohio flyer.

The dead:
Joseph Oberly, 78.
Opal Oberly, 10.
George Burdett, 45.
Mrs. George Burdett, 42.
Ray Burdett, their son, 10.
Mrs. John Miller, 70.

The accident occurred when the machine stalled on a crossing in Weston directly in the path of the train, which was running 50 miles an hour.

The bodies were strewn for several hundred feet along the track.
The party was from Delta and was returning home from the camp meeting at Portage three miles south of here.
The bodies of the Burdett and Mrs. Miller were thrown clear of the automobile and strewn along the track. Those of Oberly and his niece were caught on the front of the locomotive and crushed.

Optimism Over Business
Outlook Pervades State

Better Retail Trade Reported From Almost Every Section of Ohio—Manufacturers Receive More Orders
—Return to Normalcy Not Far.

Cleveland, August 15.—A note of cheery optimism, after months of depression bordering on despair, pervades business circles in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky. The peak of hard times has been successfully passed and each day notes some improvement in business conditions.

Better retail trade is almost everywhere reported; manufacturers of order books are now showing a healthful condition, and wholesalers are beginning to receive substantial orders for new stocks.

Unemployment in most of the highly industrialized sections of the three states is decreasing, although there are still many men without

NEW WATCH DOG
FOR WHITE HOUSE
IS NOW ON JOB

Old Boy, the new watch dog for the White House, who is to keep Laddie Boy company, is five months old and is the gift to Mrs. Harding of a Washington admirer. Here is Old

TRADE BALANCE
OF U. S. RAISED
MUCH IN YEAR

World Trade Debtors Increase Obligations By $1,500,000,000.

Washington, Aug. 15.—World trade
debtors increased their obligations to American business concerns by $1,- 500,000,000 in the last fiscal year. The federal reserve board's official estimate today showed that this tremendous buying of American goods on a credit basis had further swollen America's favorable trade balance
against the world to $4,500,000,000.
And this represents money, due American business concerns, that is entirely "unfunded" and merely stands today as promises to pay when world exchange disorders are corrected.

The debts represented by this unfunded balance are at present uncollectable because of the condition of the foreign finances. The balance due on trade accounts is in addition to the more than $10,000,000,000 due to the United States government in war loans.

America's credits to the rest of the world therefore which still remain to be paid today stand at $14,500,000,- 000.

The federal reserve board today
for the first time in a review of the menacing features of this credit situation,
admitted that some American concerns already have recognized that in these stupendous sums of foreign obligations, there are many bad debts
and absolute losses.

POLICE SKEPTICAL
THAT MAN IS FOUND

Des Moines, August 15.—Police and other investigators were skeptical today of a report that Ambrose J. Small, millionaire theatrical magnate,
who disappeared from Toronto in 1919, had been found here.

Frank Hart, former chief of police here, declares that a legless man whom he has had under surveillance for several months is Small and that he expects relatives here soon to identify him.

PENCE LAW BLAMED
FOR AUTO ACCIDENT

Columbus, O., August 15.—The Pence anti-glare law is blamed for an auto accident near Heimdale Grove, southeast of Columbus.
When Bert Nickel, 427 Stewart
Avenue, ran down John Hughes and Miss Anna B. Rockelsby, of this city, seriously injuring them, he explained that he could not see the road clearly because he had complied with the Pence law by putting new lenses on his headlights.

work and suffering will be widespread, unless the business revival, especially in the manufacture of iron and steel, comes more rapidly than is now anticipated.

This briefly summarizes a survey of business conditions made by the International News Service through chambers of commerce and others closely in touch with manufacturing and wholesale and retail trade, and touching most of the important cities, particularly those that have been greatly affected by the business depression.

Plants, long idle, are reopening;
others are gradually increasing the force of men employed, and almost without exception these men, prominent in the business life of their communities, predict a complete return to normal, healthy business conditions by winter or spring at the latest.

Iron and steel and allied industries appear to be least affected by the optimistic note. In this, one of the basic industries of this vast industrial section, the improvement,
except in sporadic cases, has not been marked. Authorities voiced the view, however, that the passage of legislation by congress for the relief of the railroads would open mills now shut down and put those already in operation part time working with a full force.

In Cleveland where the army of unemployed has numbered as high as 140,000, according to conservative estimates, a gradual improvement is noted, especially in the manufacture of textiles, automobiles and accessories. The coal trade, however, together with the iron and steel trade report a lack of substantial buying, and a coal shortage is likely to be felt again this winter unless orders come in more rapidly than is now apparent.

The following authoritative statements in regard to conditions are made by officials of the chambers of commerce of other cities, in which the survey was conducted.

Springfield, O.—Business conditions are gradually improving and unemployment is decreasing. Fall and winter business looks good.
Some plants, long idle, have resumed operations. Seventy-six to eighty percent of total wage earners are now employed. Prices and wages have not yet reached normal.

Dayton, O.—Better feeling as to future is generally expressed. Mechanical industries are moving conservatively. In some few lines there is improvement over last year.
Lumber and building trades are particularly cheerful. Sash and door makers have good orders. Wages and prices are gradually reaching normal. Unemployment is decreas-ing slowly.

FIGHT FOR LOWERED
RATES WILL BEGIN

Washington, August 15.—Grain
men from practically every state
west of the Mississippi River are here, prepared to begin today presentation of testimony before the interstate commerce commission intended to show cause for reductions in freight rates on grain products and hay. The hearings are expected to continue five days.

"Dirt farmers" have joined with grain exchanges, boards of trade and bankers of the West in urging reductions. Sun-burned raisers of hay will go on the witness stand with agricultural college economists
in an effort to prove that grain and hay production will decrease if relief is not given.

Among the witnesses called to testify as to economic conditions is Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

Four days probably will be required for the proponents of reduced rates to complete their testimony. The carriers, in rebuttal, will contend that present low returns from railroad operations will not permit the reductions asked, it was indicated.

BRITISH INVITATION TO ARMS CONFERENCE
LOST; PRESS OF NATION IS SILENT

London, Aug. 15.—Although Washington cablegrams said that President Harding's formal invitation to the allied powers to attend the far east and disarmament conference had been dispatched last Thursday, it was announced at the foreign office that Great Britain's copy has not been received.

The London Times understands that preliminary conversations are now in progress and that, if these fail, the Washington conference cannot succeed.

The text of President Harding's formal invitation, so carried by press
dispatches was published here Friday,
but since then only two newspapers
have commented editorially. The Daily Herald, organ of the British Labor party, attacked the conference, and the Times guardedly praised it.

The newspapers are making no attempt to interpret the government's attitude and such cautious editorial
restraint has not been evidenced here since the debt cancellation row. The editorial page of the Sunday papers which are more purely political

DELIVERING OF FOOD SUPPLIES
NOW TO START

American Relief Administration Ready to Start Activities.

REACH AGREEMENT

Await Word That Remaining American Prisoners
Are Released.

Riga, August 15.—The American relief administration was ready today to begin rushing food, medicines and clothing into the cholera and famine zones of Russia as soon as word is received that the remaining American citizens are outside of that country.

Walter L. Brown, director of American relief administration in Europe, said he had reached an agreement on 16 of the 25 points
he had been discussing with M. Litvinoff, envoy of the Moscow government. The agreements which have been concluded provide for the following:

1.—The food supplies will remain
American property under American control.

2.—The Moscow soviet agrees not to requisition relief supplies and will give the relief workers and the relief supplies precedence on the Russian railways. The relief workers also will have precedence in the use of Russian telephones and telegraphs.

3.—Free transport will be given American relief workers and foodstuffs. The Russians will provide the necessary equipment at the distribution centers.

4.—Americans will make regulations controlling roads and water works in the cholera areas.

5.—The soviet has the right to veto appointments of Russian assistants. The Americans are not permitted to engage Russians not now in Russia.

The other points at issue related to minor matters.

WARD FEUD CLAIMS
ANOTHER VICTIM

Chicago, August 15.—The Nineteenth Ward political feud claimed its thirteenth victim when Frank Sinacola was shot and killed in view of his two children in front of his home Sunday.

Sinacola had just recovered from bullet wounds suffered while guarding the family of Joseph Laspisa, another feud victim. He was sitting in front of his home with his children when two men approached.

The two children said that their father apparently recognized the men and tried to pull a pistol from his pocket. The men stopped and turned to run away. Sinacola's pistol stuck and would not come out. He jumped to his feet and the weapon fell to the ground.
Seeing this, the men ran toward him and Sinacola turned to flee,
but fell with a bullet through his head and another through his body.
His assailants threw away their pistols and escaped down a side street.

FUNERAL SERVICES
HELD SATURDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Frank Morris were held at the late home on Trumbull street at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, in charge of Rev. V.
F. Brown of Trinity Methodist church. Pallbearers were Frank and Lawrence Davis, Howard Harless,
Ray Augusta, Elmer Tracy and Kyle Longstreth. Dr. and Mrs. B. L.
Lackey sang two hymns, and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," a favorite of the deceased was played on the viola. Interment was made at Woodland cemetery.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., AUGUST 15.—
Interest in the mystery that surrounds the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, wealthy broker, shifted today
to the court room of Judge Sidney N.
Reeve where Arthur C. Burch, of Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. Madalynn Obenchain, Chicago divorcee, will be arraigned on formal charges of murder. It is expected that attorneys for the defense will ask for a continuance of a week in which to prepare their plea and the probability is that more time will be granted.

The meeting of father and son and
of former husband and wife, was dramatic. Rev. Burch, financial secretary of Northwestern University and Obenchain hurried to the jail immediately upon their arrival.

Father and son embraced each other. Neither spoke for several moments. Then the two walked together to another room where they talked earnestly for half an hour.

The meeting between Obenchain and his wife, was less spectacular yet the simplicity of their reunion enhanced
the dramatic element of the situation.

Los Angeles, Aug. 15.—Ralph B.
Obenchain, divorced husband of Mrs.
Madalynn Obenchain, reached Los Angeles Sunday. His first visit was to the home of his mother, Mrs. E. E.
Smart. He said he would visit his wife later.

En route to California, Mr. Obenchain and Rev. Mr. Burch were said to have outlined a plan of defense for the woman and man indicted for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy. The preliminary hearing is set for tomorrow morning. There may be a delay to permit Mr. Obenchain to prepare the defense of his former wife.

PREMIER DICTATES AS HE WALKS

Premier Lloyd George is said to be the busiest man in Europe.
The picture seems to bear out that contention, for even when he is enjoying his "constitutional" he is busily engaged in dictating important letters of State to one of his secretaries.

Attacks Wife and Daughter
With Lamp Early Sunday

George Porter Inflicts Painful Injuries On Victims When Mental Derangement Causes Man to Hit Wife On Head With Missile.

Mental derangement due to illness is believed to have caused George Porter,
colored, to attack his wife and stepdaughter with a lamp at two o'clock
Sunday morning, inflicting painful cuts on both, and then making his escape.

The women were taken to the office of Dr. C. H. Lindsay, where it was found Mrs. Porter was suffering from a scalp wound, and her daughter, Miss Louise Pearce, from a bad gash over the eye, which required several stitches, a wound on her left elbow,

where Porter had bitten her and a wound on her left hand. The injuries will not prove serious, it is thought.

According to the story told police Porter had been ill for some time. Sunday morning at two o'clock, Mrs.
Porter aroused and gave her husband his medicine. Shortly afterward she was rounded by her husband standing over her with a lamp. She asked him what he was doing and he struck her with the lamp, breaking it and then used the broke remnant in an attack upon his step-daughter. He made his escape after the affray.

FORMER HUSBAND

BLAZE TAKES TOLL OF LIVES AT OIL WORKS

Philadelphia, Aug. 15.—Four persons were killed, two are dying and a score were injured as the result of a fire which broke out early Sunday in the Point Breeze Oil Works of the Atlantic Refining Co. The fire was still burning last night and the damage already done was estimated at $1,000,000. Fire department officials declared that, unless the flames
were checked the whole plant, estimated to be worth $3,000,000 would be destroyed.

Five tanks, each having a capacity of 20,000 barrels of oil, had been destroyed up to tonight, as well as four "agitator" tanks of 4,000 barrels
capacity each, and three pump houses.

NEW OFFENSIVE
OPENED BY GREEKS

Athens, Aug. 15.—The Greeks have opened a new offensive against the Turkish nationalists on the Anatolian battle front, according to information from Smyrna today. No details were given.

The Turkish nationalists are retiring into entrenched position around Angoras.

The peninsula of Ismid now has been wholly cleared of Turkish troops.
The Greeks continue to occupy territory between Sakharra and the old front that was established before the Greek detachment last spring. One Greek detachment has advanced 100 miles east of the important railway
junction of Eski-Shehr.

Greek patrols in the sector of Ni-kaia have been repulsed.

IRISH CONSIDER
NEW PEACE TURN

Belfast, August 15.—Sir James Craig head of the Unionist government of Ulster was summoned home today from his holiday to preside at a meeting of the cabinet to consider the new turn in the Irish peace situation. The opinion was advanced in official circles that the terms offered by Premier Lloyd George offer adequate safeguards for the interests of north Ireland.

BRITISH PEACE
PLAN REJECTED
BY THE IRISH

Devalera Avers Proposal
Interferes in Country's Affairs.

PREMIER REPLIES

No Compromise Can Be Made On Allegiance
To King.

London, August 15.—Leaders of the Irish delegation in London were confident this afternoon the Sinn Fein parliament at its meeting in Dublin tomorrow will authorize Eamonn DeValera to continue peace negotiations with Premier Lloyd George.

The critical Irish situation which was precipitated by publication of the exchange between Lloyd George and DeValera is apparently less pessimistic than the English.
One member of the Irish delegation described the situation as one of optimism and promise, adding:

"Our view is that the exchanges between Premier Lloyd George and DeValera show clearly that neither will be quick to break off the negotiations. Nothing more can be said until the question is referred to Dail Eireann tomorrow. Then it is possible that negotiations will enter a new phase."

It is revealed that England had offered the following to Ireland:

Dominion form of government;
Irish autonomy in finance and taxation and the right of Ireland to maintain her own constabulary for home police duty and to direct her postal and educational systems.
The English government demand-that Ireland should be obligated to pay her share of the national debt,
should create no customs barriers between Ireland and the rest of the United Kingdom and should allow England to control the defenses of the country by sea and air.

London, August 15.—Threatened with deadlock and a renewal of warfare in Ireland, the Irish peace situation reached its most critical point today.

There was a full session of the cabinet to consider the Irish crisis.
Simultaneously it was announced that it was unlikely that Premier Lloyd George would make a statement on Ireland in the house of commons today.

There is foolish to suggest that there is any substantial hope for peace," says the Dublin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph. The publication of the correspondence which passed between Lloyd George and Eamonn DeValera reveals that the Irish republicans are holding out for absolute independence, despite the reiterated public declaration of the British government spokesmen that England will never consent to the creation of an Irish republic.

The Freeman's Journal, of Dublin, which supports the republican cause, commented only upon General Smuts' letter to DeValera. This letter had guaranteed dominion government to Ireland and also had pointed out that Ireland was getting more than the south African Boers had received from England.

London, August 15.—Eamonn De-Valera, leader of the Irish Republicans, has refused to accept the proposals of the British government, constituting dominion government
and having as their basis the bringing about of peace in Ireland. He declares that the conditions sought to be imposed constitute interference in Irish affairs and control which cannot be permitted. On the other hand, Mr. Lloyd George has informed Mr. DeValera that there can be no compromise on the question of the right of Ireland to se-cede from her allegiance to the king. The premier tells Mr. De-Valera that the conditions of the proposed settlement contain no desire on the part of Great Britain for British ascendancy over Ireland or the impairment of Ireland's national ideals.

"Our proposals present to the Irish people," says the premier, "an opportunity such as never has dawned in their history before. We have made them in a sincere desire to achieve peace but beyond them
we cannot go."

Mr. Lloyd George leaves open the door for possible further negotiations with Mr. DeValera by saying that the government will discuss the application of the principles of the offer whenever acceptance of the principles is communicated to him.
Simultaneously with the making public of the correspondence between Mr. Lloyd George and Mr.
DeValera, a note to the premier,
signed by Sir James Craig, the Ulster leader, was published. This note after declaring the loyalty of the people of Ulster to the empire, declared that in the interest of peace they consented to the establishment of a parliament in northern Ireland and now are carrying out their part of that compact while the southern Irishmen "have chosen to repudiate the governmenof Ireland act and press Great Bri-ain for wider powers." It adds that to join in such pressure would be repugnant to the people of northern Ireland.

DINNER STORIES

Aviator (on way to court): "But, officer, I was only doing sixty miles an hour? Do you call that speeding?" Aero Cop: "Who said anything about speeding? You were delaying the traffic!"

"The world never moved so fast before," mused Mr. Simmons. "We have winter ice on the Fourth of July, spring vegetables on Christmas; we buy our straw hats in February and our felt hats in August; we get our Sunday paper on Saturday night and our magazines a month ahead of time. If we telephone a man in San Francisco from New York he hears our voice about four hours before we speak; and if someone in Japan sends us a cablegram tomorrow we get it today."

Young Edmond, being still too young even to attend kindergarten, hasn't a very clear idea of history. All persons, events and things are to him contemporary. That's why he couldn't understand the presence of his father around the house on a recent holiday.

"What's daddy doin' home today, mamma?" he inquired. "Why isn't he in the big, big city?"

"Why, dear," replied mamma, "this is a holiday—it's Lincoln's birthday."

"O-o-o!" excitedly, "are we going to have a cake?"

"In the future we will have no such thing as war," "No," agreed the grim scientist. "If my present experiments in lethal devices meet my hopes, we'll have something very much worse."

father undertook to cut little Freddie's hair. Barbers are so expensive in these days.

Though he was making quite a good job of it, he was rather slow, and Freddie, who was only five, found the operation a bit wearisome.

"Are you nearly done, daddy?" he asked at length.

"Very nearly, sonny," replied his father. "I've only got the front to do now."

"I'm afraid," sighed the small boy sadly, "that the back will grow again while you're finishing the front."

Mrs. Alice Avery Anderson, the president of the new California League for Abolishing Fairy Tales from Children's Libraries, said in an address at Coronado:

"The child mind is very timid. We have no means of appreciating the timidity of the child's mind. I do not hesitate to declare that fairy tales such as 'Cinderella,' 'Aladdin' and 'Jack the Giant Killer' have injured, if not wrecked, millions of child minds."

"To illustrate my point—children's timidity—I said to my little girl the other night as I tucked her in her crib:

"You know, dear, you need never be frightened in the dark. There are always angels hovering round your bed, guarding you with their wings."

"Oh, muvver!" said my little girl, "I hope none won't settle on me."

DINNER STORIES

It was the first night of a new play. "I say," remarked the author to the manager, "that scene-shifter over there is a most peculiar looking fellow."

"Yes; he's an Eskimo," said the manager.

"An Eskimo! What on earth made you take him on?"

"Oh, I thought it would be a comfort to see one happy face if the play turns out to be a frost!"

A teacher in a slums Sunday school remarked that her class was better informed upon motion pictures than they were upon things religious. The lesson was on the subject of that "still small voice."

"Have you ever heard the word 'conscience'?" she asked.

The silence was unbroken and uncomprehending.

Then the light of knowledge dawned in the face of one little girl, and she announced:

"Sure, I know, Conscience Talmadge."

Beauty Chats

LONG EYELASHES

It is an axiom that long eyelashes will make the eye beautiful. Everyone knows that. But everyone does not know how to make the lashes grow long and silky and rich in color.

To be effective, eyelashes need not necessarily be dark. Some blondes have black lashes, a striking combination, but not always a beautiful one. Deep brown or light brown lashes with blonde hair are often a better frame for gray or light blue eyes. The color is not as important as lustre, thickness and length.

The first step in making the lashes beautiful involves a sacrifice. It means cutting the lashes shorter, and it will take many weeks for them to grow out to their full length again. But the results are quite worth the temporary cutting.

Use manicure scissors with curved points, these are safest because the points can be turned from the eye. Clip off the ends of the lashes only. You need not take off a great deal. Then rub with oil or a special eyelash tonic. Don't use vaseline, that is no good at all.

Then use the tonic or oil every day. It will stimulate a new growth and tend to make the original hairs longer. It will also give lustre and color to the lashes, which counts immensely in improving the beauty of the eye.

Caster oil, almond oil olive oil, warmed cocoa butter—these are all good for making the lashes longer and thicker. Castor oil will make them a shade darker, too. Chubby: You are 15 pounds overweight. Omit the starchy foods, especially white bread. Green vegetables spring salads and bran bread will be helpful.

Mary:—The preparation you mention is a proprietary article and I do not know what it contains. If the water continues to irritate your skin, follow the bath by using this lotion on face: one ounce of glycerine and one of spirits of camphor. Let it stand overnight and add to it two ounces of rose water. If a slight scum arises later, pour the mixture through a fine cloth.

Bright Eyes:—You can keep the nails from becoming brittle, if you rub cold cream into them each night. I do not advise pulling out the hairs of the brow. Any powder that is made with some pumice in it, will help you keep the nails clean.

Mae:—You can bleach the neck by using lemon juice every day, following it up with a good cold cream.

Sentence:—You should have some do this work for you as the oil is applied to the roots of the lashes from the point of a very sable brush, so as not to get it into the eyes. It will not hurt the eye, except to cause it to smart.

Bridge Nails Keep Bobbing Up To Prick Tires

Chicago, August 13.—There is a great magnetism about Evanston, Ill., a fashionable suburb of Chicago. So great is the magnetism that it threatens to take the clappers off its houses and tires off its automobiles and to make it the center of scientific research, to say nothing of the market for hardware.

Street Commissioner Brown, of Evanston, recently learned of this phenomenal quality while sitting at his desk.

He answered the telephone to hear an irate voice demand: "I want somebody sent here to take care of these nails."

Mr. Brown informed the caller that he was talking to the Street Commissioner's office, not to a beauty parlor, but the voice kept on:

"I'm down on the Central Street bridge and the nails are sticking out all over it. I have four pounds of spikes in my tires."

Then call after call. Mr. Brown had no rest. From all points along the town's sanitary canal came new stories of the strange eruption of nails. A street inspector was sent out with a sledge hammer to take care of the nails.

"I can't make it out," he reported back to the chief. "At first I thought the heat caused the nail explosions by expanding the plank in the bridges. Then it seemed quite likely that the owls, starving to death because of the recent failure of the owl-food crop in these parts, have taken to pulling the nails."

"Of course, it may have been a magnetic storm—or maybe the automobiles shake them out in passing over the bridges."

So Evanston is debating the advisability of sending for an electrician, a bird catcher or a carload of books.

SOME NERVE!

Chillicothe, August 12.—Despite the fact that he had robbed Claude E. Wiedler, local merchant, his friend and benefactor, of $271, taken from the store safe, W. A. Drake, ex-soldier of Camp Sherman admitted to Niles, Ohio, police that he went out with Wiedler for a practice shoot to the rifle range a few hours after the robbery, which took place within 20 feet of the police station.

Russian Agent Held in Big Defalcation.

A fund of $1,000,000 deposited in the National City Bank, New York, by the Russian Soviet Government has virtually vanished. Jacques Roberto Cibrario, sent to the United States to make purchases by the Soviet Government, was arrested in New York recently charged with misappropriating a large part of the money. Scarcely $100,000 of the original fund remains in the bank. Cibrario came to New York in 1919 by film motion picture projectors and bills for the Soviet Committee of Public Education in Moscow. Prior to entering the employ of the Russian Government he was a $45 a week clerk. It is alleged that since coming to New York he has been living at the rate of $75,000 a year and maintained a magnificent bachelor apartment in an exclusive section in the city.

CALL OFF GAME ON ACCOUNT OF MUD

Because of the rain which fell, creating a sea of mud of the Reserve Park diamond, the second game of the city series between the Home Browsers and St. Brigid's Meteors was called off, Sunday afternoon.

The Browns had previously taken the first game of the series and with two games out of three necessary to win the series, the game scheduled, Sunday, was to be a deciding one. Another game in the city series will be played next Sunday when the Meteors meet the American Legion past-timers at the Cincinnati avenue sand lot.

The Meteors have issued a challenge to the Xenia Reds, the new and fast traveling team, to a game to be played anytime before the season closes.

SOLDIER IN COURT FOLLOWING SHOOTING

Dayton, O., Aug. 15.—Albert Brunette, Wilbur Wright field soldier, arrested following the shooting of two men on the Island Park dance floor Friday night, was arraigned in police court on a disturbing the peace charge today and seven other soldiers are still held, while further investigation, seeking the gun user, is on. A civilian said to have worn a soldier's uniform, is being hunted.

HEAVY FIGHTING REPORTED FROM ALBANIA THURSDAY

Rome, August 14.—Heavy fighting is in progress between the Albanians and Serbians in the Drin in the northern part of Albania according to word from Valona today.

A force of 2,000 of Serbs were attacked and retreated to Ksovo. Thirty villages were burned in the zone of fighting.

TRAGEDY FOLLOWS QUARREL Youngstown, O., August 15.—Enraged because Joe Martze, 20, Greenville Pa. would not consent to the marriage of his sister to John Stoilian, 20, the latter shot and fatally wounded Martze here yesterday afternoon. Martze died late last night.

BASEBALL POOL MAN GIVES I.P. Dayton, O., Aug. 15.—J. L. Mulholland, Cleveland, alleged promoter of a nation wide baseball pool scheme, walked into U. S. Marshall Kindig's office today and submitted to arrest for the alleged misuse of the mails in sending baseball pools over the country. He was listed for arraignment this afternoon and provided bond. He may be heard, Thursday.

TROUSERS STOLEN New York.—Hereafter Sidney Reynolds, carnival producer, will lock his trousers in a safe when the heat forces him to disrobe. He hung his trousers in a closet while he worked yesterday and a thief took them. He had to stay in the office until the police brought him another pair.

KILLED PURSUING WIFE Boston.—Michael Clifford, while chasing his wife out of their home, slipped and fell breaking his neck. He died instantly. Clifford, who is believed to have been intoxicated, had armed himself with knife.

ELECTED PRESIDENT Bridgeport, August 12.—Charles J. Hunter, of this place, treasurer of the Wheeling Steel and Iron Company, with mills in Ohio and West Virginia, has been elected president of that corporation, succeeding John Duncan, who goes to St. Louis to aid his brothers in operating coal, iron and railroad properties in Illinois. The Wheeling Steel and Iron Company is a subsidiary of the Wheeling Steel Corporation.

SUFFERS CONCUSSION OF BRAIN IN FALL

C. L. Darlington returned, Sunday evening from Cleveland where he was called by the condition of his aunt, Mrs. Arnold Green, who was found in her home painfully injured several days ago and was removed to a hospital.

Mrs. Green is suffering from a concussion of the brain, which it is believed now was caused by a fall down stairs, although the exact cause of her injury is not certain. She is believed to be improving now from the injuries, but Mrs. Charles Darlington, Sr., remained in Cleveland and will be with her sister-in-law for several days.

"MINIATURE WAR" ON IN ALBANIA

Rome, August 15.—A "miniature war" but one of great violence was reported today to be raging between the Serbians and Albanians in northern Albania, and the southeastern corner of Montenegro.

According to information from Scutari, 2,000 Serbian rebels, made an attack against the Albanians along the left bank of the Drin river. The fighting lasted 11 hours. The Albanians, reinforced by a large section of the population, put the Serbians to flight. Many of the Serbians were killed and wounded in the fighting.

Subsequently the Serbians are charged with having organized "black hand" societies which destroyed 41 villages. Many civilians were murdered. On account of the isolation of the fighting zone and the absence of direct means of communication it is impossible to get accurate details and many rumors are current. One of these is to the effect that thousands of aged men, women and children were killed when the Albanian villages were burned.

FAIL TO CONFIRM CURRENT REPORTS

London, August 15.—There has been no official confirmation of reports from Tokio this morning that the Bolshevik government of the far eastern republic in Siberia has been overthrown. The Central News correspondent in Tokio telegraphed as follows:

"Circumstantial though unconfirmed reports were received here that the red government in Siberia had been overturned. The government officers were said to have been driven out and the homes of many communists destroyed."

EXPRESS CRUISER TOWED INTO PORT

Cedar Point, Ohio, August 15.—The forty foot express cruiser, Aurora, owned by R. C. Dutton, of Cleveland, a member of the Cleveland Yacht Club, was picked up and towed here this morning. Although pounded by a terrific sea from six o'clock last night, she was undamaged.

The Aurora went aground on a sandbar off Cedar Point while en route to Sandusky from Kelley's Island last evening. Fred Dutton, Miss Alice Dutton, Miss Sophie Maha, John Vanemond and Mr. and Mrs. William Anthony of Cleveland, the occupants, were taken off by the crew of the light-house tender, Crocus.

MASHERS BEWARE! New York.—Mrs. Eleanor DeHart, 30, a widow admitted today that she has beaten up and caused the arrest of fifty mashers in the past five years.

"I carry a little rubber hose," she said, "and when one annoys me, I just let him have it. Then I call a cop."

Her latest victim, James Zamberelli, got a day in the workhouse.

BLAZE EXTINGUISHED Philadelphia, Pa., August 15.—The second blaze at the Atlantic Refining Company's plant here was extinguished at noon today. It will take three months to repair the damage caused by the two fires, according to company officials.

DEMONSTRATE USE OF VEGETABLE OIL

With the arrival here Monday of R. B. Shively, of the Corn Products Refining Company, of New York City a demonstration of the use of Mazola, a vegetable oil designed as a substitute to butter and lard, will be demonstrated daily until August 20, at the Adair furniture store.

Housewives and members of Women's clubs, teachers organizations and high school domestic science classes are included in the invitation to those interested to attend the demonstration. Mazola, the demonstrator promises to show, contains water and is therefore more efficient and economical of use, and better adaptable to cooking than butter or lard.

Although there is no contest in connection with the demonstration, a prize will be given away each day. The demonstrations are open to the public.

BULL BUFFALOES MARKED FOR DEATH

Wainwright, Alberta.—One thousand buffalo in the national park at Wainwright will be slaughtered this year according to Government plans. The park contains only 5,000 at present.

It could hold 25,000, but the maximum number contemplated by the Government is 10,000. It is necessary much more than enough for 10,000 buffalo. Those picked for slaughter, however, will be mostly bulls. There is a large surplus of bulls in the herd and the elimination of a great part of them will do the herd no harm.

The slaughtered animals will be sold in the markets of Canada and the United States. Buffalo meat sells at a high price and the robes and heads will bring large sums. Mounted heads taken from a few bulls as identically killed in the park sold last fall in Montreal for $250 apiece.

Wainwright Park is located in the heart of the buffalo country. Buffalo blackened the prairie when the Hudson's Bay Company was paramount lord of Western Canada. Now the old empire of the company has departed. Its trapping grounds have moved north as civilization has advanced and no buffalo except in parks are left between the international boundary and the Mackenzie River. In the Far North Canada's only wild herd still remains.

XENIA REDS WIN OVER MT. HOLLY

Pulling the old iron man stuff, the Xenia Reds, comers in the local baseball field, defeated Mt. Holly 12 to 8, at the Washington street park Sunday afternoon and defeated the Home Brews 14-3 in the three innings played.

The victory over Mt. Holly was the third of a five game series with that team, and the contest was featured by the hurling of Holland and Shaw and the all round playing of Derrick and Day. McClure at first base and Morlat in the box, shone for the Mt. Holly aggregation.

Only three innings of the second game was played when the teams gave it up with the Reds holding on to a big score. The Reds scored 12 runs off the delivery of Roy Bayliff in the first inning, but Frank Chambliss, who relieved the manager in the box, delivered good ball, and confined their scoring proclivities to two runs in as many innings.

Roy Chambliss pitched good ball for the Reds in the second game, letting down only after the Reds had piled up an insurmountable lead. O'Connors and Pritchard umpired the contests.

CHARGED BY BULL; NARROWLY ESCAPES

Roger Fudge of the Union Road, escaped with a few bruises and a cut upon his face, when he was charged by an infuriated bull on his farm on Monday morning. Mr. Fudge with a farm hand entered the field with the animal and the injured man was probably saved from serious injury by the bull being frightened away by the helper.

RECESS URGED.

Washington, August 15.—A thirty day recess of the senate to begin on August 20 was provided for in a concurrent resolution introduced today in the senate by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts. Republican leader. Lodge said that he would call up the resolution tomorrow.

WOULD BOOK GAMES. The Xenia Reds, the newly organized baseball team has several open dates and is anxious to book games. The Club would like to hear especially from Bellbrook, Waynesville, Alpha or the South Side Athletics. Write George Ewing, 14 Queen street, Xenia.

A GIGANTIC JOB.

There have been famines that have menaced millions of people than are now threatened in Russia. In famine-stricken districts in India the English have dealt with 70,000,000 people endangered by lack of food.

The trouble in Russia is that civilization, government and transportation have broken down. A further difficulty is that the whole population in many districts has been on the verge of hunger for years. There is no reserve strength in the nation. It is all burned out, wasted, used up in mad experiments.

It will not be a job of a month or six months or a year. It is likely to require several years. As Herbert Hoover says in his cable to the Swiss President, famine in Russia is beyond the reach of charity and will recur yearly until the economic system is changed.

Secretary Hoover is aware of the size of the undertaking. So is Lloyd George and so, too, is the Allied Supreme Council. As Mr. Hoover points out:

The famine in Russia is of an extent entirely beyond the resources of all available private charities in the world.

Premier Briand, of France, in the Supreme Council meeting proposed that all the Allies join with the United States and the other nations in giving help through the Red Cross and other relief agencies. Lloyd George agreed, but insisted:

"The Red Cross cannot perform the miracle of the five loaves and the two fishes. Relief must be organized immediately on a great scale, not only for the sake of Russia, but for the sake of the rest of the world, because typhus, cholera and other plagues incident to famine would cause more losses than the last war.

If the job, as Secretary Hoover and Lloyd George agree, is too big for the private charities of the world, international action should be swift and sweeping. While the nations are formulating their plans, the private relief organizations and the semi-official charities must do what they can.

America is ready now that the Soviets have furnished the first of the asked-for guarantees, the release of American prisoners. We will go in without waiting for others.

A "FARM BLOC" VICTORY.

We shall now see what we shall see in the Federal attempt to take the "original sin" out of the grain exchanges and the grain dealers. The Grain-Trading Control Act awaits the President's signature.

The passage of such a measure was, in a way, inevitable. It had become a kind of "moral issue" with the farmers. They have been demanding something of the kind since the first fine frenzies of the Farmer's Alliance and the Populist Party of a generation back. About all the Senate was able to do was to modify and amend the original bills to keep the crusaders from smashing the grain-marketing machinery of the country and smashing the grain-growing business along with it.

There were many indefensible things in the exchanges. It was hard to justify a system that might "sell" in twelve months, thirteen, fifteen or even twenty times as many bushels of grain as were grown in the Nation that year. It was impossible to reach this condition by the ordinary police powers of the country; but the new law simply uses the taxing power, held almost and well-nigh limitless, to end the "puts" and "calls" and other purely speculative transactions.

The one thing of supreme importance to the new agrarian move is that the law batters down the bars the grain exchanges put up against farmers' co-operative grain companies. The exchanges prohibited "rebating," and the farmer's profits coming back from his co-operative organization were held to be rebates. State laws had been passed in Minnesota and Nebraska in an effort to get the farmers into the exchanges; but appeals had held them up. The Federal law opens the doors.

Altogether, here is the most significant and signal victory won by the "farm bloc." It may be that it is a dangerous victory or that it will turn out to be more than a paper victory. Just the same, it will hearten the farmer and give new life to the co-operative movement that is reaching its full flower in the United States Grain Growers, recently organized.

ILLINOIS UNDER A CLOUD.

Disappointment and disgust are the sentiments of the normal citizen at the acquittal of those self-confessed baseball crooks. The magnates evidently consider them guilty, and will not reinstate them. This fact is heartening. But the alleged miscarriage of justice, as it appears to outsiders, tends to undermine public faith in the courts. The gamblers won. Judge K. M. Landis is hopeful that baseball has been purged, but as long as men feel that they can win thousands of dollars and go free, even though they may be "fired" from a team, there are some rascals who will gladly take the risk. Something seems to be the matter with Illinois courts.

The governor of Illinois is riding around while evading arrest on a charge of embezzlement of State funds. He has threatened to call out the militia to protect himself. He claims that the business of the State government cannot be hindered by arresting its chief executive officer. But it would seem that his tactics will lead to a paralysis of government. Men indicted on such serious grounds have as their first duty the clearing of themselves, if possible. How can citizens of lesser rank respect the government when the governor acts thus?

The Thompson machine not only controls Chicago, but has Illinois under its grasp. This is the same Thompson whose patriotism was so seriously questioned during the war. The good people of that State have not been idle in their attempt to overthrow this sinister combine, but thus far they have been unsuccessful. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty and righteousness.—Western Christian Advocate.

THE SURGEON AND THE NERVE SPECIALIST.

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Mr. Horace Anderson is building a new five room cottage for Mr. Harry Seifert, on his farm four miles south of Xenia. Harry expects to occupy the same by December.

Mr. Milton McKay and his cousin, Miss Mabel McKay arrived last night from Buffalo, where they spent a pleasant vacation of ten days in sight seeing.

Mr. Ed Davidson and his sister Miss Emma Davidson, have gone to Tadmor, on Mad river near Dayton, where they will join their brother, Mr. John Davidson and together will enjoy a little camp life.

The walls of the Buckeye shoe factory have been completed and the big four story building shows up handsomely. It will soon be ready for the roof, and it will not be many weeks before the wheels in the new factory will begin to go around.

Mr. Harry Sparks, who has been devoting his time to the Little Miami Traction company will hereafter be employed in the furthering of another enterprise, of the same kind, presumably the Xenia and Wilmington branch that is shortly to be built.

Playing Out of Bunkers

In addition to giving "sportsmanship" to a game bunkers are intended to penalize poor play. Therefore I suppose whenever we are bunkered we can blame about fifty per cent of the disaster on our lack of skill and the other half on luck. Of course no matter how skillful a player is, he is sure to get into difficulties frequently and the test of his ability is to get out with a minimum of loss. If there is any place on the course where a player must have control of his temper, it is when he finds his ball sarcastically smiling at him from a bunker.

The inexperienced player or the one who has not yet acquired the so-called golf temperament, gives vent to his exasperation and savagely tries to rescue a bad situation by unwise attempts to get distance and get out of the bunker at one shot. It is seldom indeed, that a player is justified in this attempt. The usual result is that he only lands his ball in a worse position than it was before. This only makes him more determined than ever to get distance on the next shot with similar results.

The golfer who is able to realize that having landed in a bunker he had best accept the inevitable and regard a stroke as practically lost, really has a tremendous advantage. He is able to approach his ball in a frame of mind that will enable him to recognize the difficulties of his next shot and plan to play not for the purpose of getting distance, but merely to get out of the bunker, and a few yards to the other side so he can take his next shot under normal conditions. Distance from a bunker is absolutely no object to self-controlled and wise players. This attitude toward a bunker shot is insurance against any more waste strokes and is the best of golf strategy. Grand recoveries from bunker are usually miracles and this is no age for miracles. A player should reflect that a shot lost in a bunker can best be recovered by a good approach or by sinking a long putt.

Assuming your ball lies clear in the sand close up to the bunker, your best chance is a heavy niblick. Your stance must largely be adopted to the circumstance. The closer your ball lies to bunker, naturally the more under your all you should bet. You should hit the sand about two inches back of the ball and take plenty of it. There is no such thing as a follow through in playing a niblick out of a bunker. A follow through hinders rather than helps. To attempt it would likely mean you wouldn't get under the ball enough to give it the necessary raise. When the ball lies close to the bunker, instead of attempting to go straight over it, it is often wise to play the ball crosswise to the bunker at an angle of 45 degrees. This gives the ball a chance to rise before reaching the bunker.

When the ball is pretty well back from the bunker and there really seems a fair chance of getting distance, many good players attempt it, particularly when they feel that the hole is lost otherwise. In such a situation I think it is best to go straight at the bunker instead of playing at an angle using whatever club seems wisest under the circumstances. Of course a player is always handicapped in making a shot in a bunker, since his club cannot be permitted to touch the ground in addressing the ball.

In closing let me repeat that it is in most every instance wise to play a bunkered shot merely to get out, and that you must "keep your head," no matter how aggravating the circumstances.

WOULD REGULATE BEAUTY PARLORS

Chicago.—The selling of beauty will be regulated by law, if a proposed bill goes through.

When a dissatisfied brunette decides she wants to become a hot weather blonde the whole State literally speaking will know about it. When a forty five year old dowager becomes a twenty year old flapper by the new wrinkle-removing process she will do so under the auspices of the State, so to speak. The gentle and magic art of the cosmetician will no longer be practiced in darkest secrecy.

That is if the National Cosmetician Society which met recently in Chicago succeeds in putting through the Cosmetician bill.

"We are working for uniform legislation for cosmeticians throughout the country," said one of the leading members of the society. "We are working for the passage of a law that will enforce State inspection of beauty shops and cosmetic work, and that will make it necessary for a cosmetician to pass a State examination before she is permitted to go to into the business. This will put beauty work on a still higher plane. It is really a scientific profession and should be treated as such."

GERMANS FLY NEW FLAG

Berlin, August 12.—The republican flag was flown from all the Government offices, the second anniversary of the coming into force of the new German constitution. The flag was ordered to be flown with the view to popularizing its use, as it is seldom displayed, the old monarchical colors having retained their favor among the general public.

Those who look from two to five years ahead are using VESTA Batteries because they "Cost Less Per Month of Service."

Among the various concerns which regard the superior service of VESTA Batteries is the Yellow Cab Company, of Chicago. This concern is conceded to be the largest taxicab company in this country, and as such is recognized as one of the keenest buyers. The Yellow Cab Company has used VESTA Batteries continuously for the past three years with perfect satisfaction. It is also an accepted fact that batteries are subjected to the most severe usage in taxicab service.

We will tell you of other big VESTA users next week.

GAS AND BOOZE.

The man who drives a motor car must be alert and wide awake or he may harvest wound and scar, and every kind of pain and ache. Whatever faculties are his he should keep busy on the job, for reckless drivers round him whiz, a never ceasing, deadly mob. Most drivers now are sober lads, because they can't be otherwise; the Old Red Juice that cheered our dads a man can't purchase if he tries. Oh, men are sober when they tread upon the gas, and let her go, and yet the daily list of dead, by autos slain, fills me with woe. If men could get a slug of booze at every hamlet on the way, the poor old coroner would lose the little sleep he gets today. I would not dare to drive my car along the busy public street, if every village had a bar where speeding maniacs might meet. Refreshed by taking forty drops, in maudlin haste they'd journey thence, and kill a brace of traffic cops, and knock my tumbler through a fence. There's peril now in every mile, there's death wherever crossroads are, and trembling, I forget to smile, when I am riding in my car. How would it be if jingled jays went crashing through the helpless crowds? Oh, death would govern all the ways, and there would be a boom in shrouds. We'd be forever in a sweat lest we be killed by drunken hicks; I'm glad that booze is hard to get, for booze and gasoline won't mix.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

The Man With a Mask

He walked streets. He wore the ordinary clothes that convention suggested. His likes, dislikes and habits savored purely human.

He was loved for much he was, admired for much that he did. He was never hailed as remarkable and an under-abundance of acclaim came his way.

Music, art, literature, people, common things, incident's were playthings to him as to many another.—

And yet, he was a man with a mask!

You see, it was like this. His life had been just like Spring, with its freshness, its flowers, its birds—new-comers from colder climes. But he was living in a world, just the same, with other human beings all about him, experiencing the same longing to burst out, to be natural, to be real.

He thought he could be himself, and grow to a ripe maturity just as the flower expects to, before it is taken in the night and seared by the bitter frost that comes on so unawares.

But the cold, beating rain of the world chilled his soul. He shivered a little—and put on the mask. He has worn it ever since.

Not that he was ashamed or wanted to conceal anything. Rather the opposite.

As a rule, we showed to the outer world that which mostly we are not. We keep the rest for ourselves—be- hind the mask.

Our many selves must guide us, advise us—rule us.

We are not such strayful human beings as one would suppose. Each of us must, through the force of a strange necessity, hew fairly straight to the line of least resistance. We must accept our heritage with good, as well as with silent, grace.

But the inner thrills of substantial experience must flower in our hearts of hearts, quite alone and separate from that which the world knows about.

The man with a mask—is he not a worthy citizen of the world? How- ever lonely, does not such a one touch the heartstrings of all, and make each his debtor?

We grow only as we know. And we know only as we feel. The mask feels. For behind that voluntary mask live all the vital elements of sympathy, breadth, tolerance, kindness and unselfish desire.

You who long and strive, are the man with the mask!

EUROPE MUST PAY HER DEBT TO U. S. THINKS DR. FESS

"The basis of the world's wealth is labor, and a nation that hopes to stand on a sound financial basis must work," Congressman S. D. Fess in his address Saturday evening at the Kenia Christian Workers' Conference, made this statement, in connection with his talk on the problems that now confront the governing bodies of the United States government.

The many problems that are now before the President and his official aides were taken up by Dr. Fess, in order that his audience should have a clear conception of the work that is to be done in Congress and the other governing bodies.

"Outstanding among the problems at Washington is the question of tax revision," Dr. Fess said, who continued, "The government at present is well established on the income tax issue and there is no doubt about the government collecting taxes on duties. At present seventy per cent of the taxes of the United States government is collected by the direct method and 25 per cent is collected by the indirect method.

"One of the greatest problems of tax revision is the question of refunding the public debt. The payment of war stamps and other debts that come due in 1923 is practically impossible and probably will not be paid in 1928. To meet this problem the government is doing the best in its power to evade being up to the eyes of the country, for when the country's capital is tied up it seriously affects labor and suffering results. When labor suffers the government is blamed and anarchy is the final result."

Dr. Fess' solution of the problem lay in the willingness of the people of the country to accept a higher rate of interest with a longer term, with the result of increased dividends.

"Europe must get away from the idea that her war debt can be cancelled," continued the speaker. "If she would only realize that the money that the American government gave to the cause of freedom was not only loaned but borrowed from the American people she would see that her debt is to every citizen of the United States. If Europe would pay the interest upon her debt that is now due, the bulk of the United States debt would be cleared."

Dr. Fess stated that the United States Shipping Board, Dr. Fess could see only three ways of overcoming the mistakes that were made and that would put the Board on a sound basis. First, to repeal the laws governing the ownership of the ships, and the rules governing their management; second, to sell the ships to other countries, and third, to pay the difference between the cost of running the ships by this country and Britain. There will be little further expenditure upon the U. S. Shipping Board, is the opinion of Dr. Fess.

"The Disarmament Conference that is soon to convene in Washington, is the most hopeful event of the country's history," said Dr. Fess. "The hope for the world Peace for all time will not succeed until nations agree the stressing situation between China and Japan will be one of the leading issues that will be settled at the conference."

Other leading problems discussed by Dr. Fess included the tariff question, the question of the Beer Bill, the excess profits tax, and the hope of cooperation on the part of labor and capital. In dealing with the Beer Bill Dr. Fess disposed of hope of success with the statement that "Congress is tired of the argument upon the bill, which is the most outlandish invitation to turn beer into a guise of medicine."

The coming winter in the opinion of Dr. Fess will be the most serious one the people of the country have had to face. "Never before has there been a time when the church has had a greater problem, and the confidence of the people back-home is the basis of hope upon which the success of the solving of the problems now facing the country is placed," Congressman Fess said.

Preceding Congressman Fess' address, Dr. A. W. Blackwood gave an interesting black-board talk upon "The Duty of Forgiveness," outlining the faith of Christian people since the day of Christ.

"The cause of the failure of the people to recognize their duty to their church today is due to the attitude of the church, and its leaders who are constantly making excuses and forcing doubt in the church," was the statement of Dr. Blackwood.

FIVE APPLICANTS TAKE EXAMINATION FOR POSTMASTER

Five applicants for the position of Postmaster in Jamestown and in Wilberforce, took the government civil service examination at the federal building here, Saturday, for the positions.

Three of the applicants are from Jamestown: L. S. O'Day is the incumbent, a Republican, appointed under the Democratic regime to succeed Harry Lieurance, Democrat, who resigned before his term expired.

John Baughn, the second applicant, is also a Republican, and was a candidate for the appointment when O'Day was temporarily appointed but did not take the examination. The third applicant for the Jamestown position is Otto Thorpe.

J. D. M. Russell and J. H. Hickman were applicant's for the position at Wilberforce who took the examination. Russell is the incumbent, serving under a Democratic appointment.

The Jamestown office pays $1,800 a year and the Wilberforce office $1,600 a year. It is expected that it will take three months at least before the papers are graded and an appointment made.

WORM DISCOVERED ON GOLDEN GLOW GIVEN ANALYSIS

When an ugly worm, stung members of the family of Amon Kelble, West street, when they attempted to pick golden glow blossoms, two of the worms were given Frank Chambliss, local entomologist for analysis and examination.

The worm, he found, is a flower moth belonging to the Arctidae family, of the species eyprepia, and resembles the tiger moth, known by the common name of "swallow-tail" or "saddle-blanket" moth.

Although the worm was found on a golden glow leaf, it is not restricted to that species of flower, according to Mr. Chambliss. The male is larger and darker than the female in both the larva and adult stages. The adults are covered with 39 spiral spines for protection which contain about 50 small stickers each, the prick of which is very venomous.

From the back one-eighth of an inch they have seven rows of feet, each row containing five feet. The worm secretes a saliva from glands which are just back of the feet. The eyes are three distinct colors which are tucked away its head beneath when in danger. The mouth contains numerous rows of minute teeth which it uses to perfection in case of emergency. There are many of this species, but the history of none of them has been worked out in this country, says Mr. Chambliss. "A full and careful life history of any one of them would be a valuable contribution to science," he said.

COLT RACING WILL BE FEATURE OF FAIR IN CLARK COUNTY

Springfield, O., August 15.—Colt racing has grown in popularity so rapidly that no racing card is complete without events for the juveniles.

The Clark County Agricultural Society was among the first to recognize the great interest in the baby trotters and annually colt racing has been one of the big features of its fairs, held at Springfield. This year will be no exception. The society has offered $1,000 stakes, each for the 2-year-old and 3-year-old trotters, to be decided at the fair, which will be held August 18 to 19, inclusive.

Forty-two royally bred colts were nominated in the 2-year-old classic and thirty-nine were named in the 3-year-old early closer to be raced here. It is expected that fully ten or twelve of the two year olds will score for the word and from what baby trotters have shown in their preparation for this event, it is going to be the most select field that ever faced a start.

The two-year-old trot will be the feature of the opening day's card, Tuesday, August 16, and lovers of the light harness sport from all over Ohio have signified their intention of being present to witness it.

The 3-year-old trotting stake will be raced, Friday, August 19, the speed committee of the fair having decided to save the best for the closing day. The possibility of a new world record for a double oval for colts of this age is in sight when this race is finished.

BIBLE NECESSARY TO WELFARE OF ALL GREAT NATIONS

Dealing with the United States as the leader in religious freedom, and as the hope of the world in the continuation of those principles and ideals which make for progress and an enlightened sphere, Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of the Ohio State University, closed the session of the Xenia Christian Workers' Conference at the First M. E. Church Sunday evening before an audience that nearly filled the building.

The great issue before the country today is whether or not this nation should maintain and preserve those moral and spiritual ideals which guided the destinies of this country in its early stages. Dr. Thompson pointed out. The idea of service should be the big factor in the course of this great nation and in order to do this the Bible must have a place in the interests of the country.

"The freedom of God, in this, His own world, not the freedom of man is the issue which faces the world of today," Dr. Thompson said. "All lasting religious beliefs are those in which the Bible has had some chance, and despite the cries that have gone down through the ages that Christianity is a 'decadent religion,' it is still with us." Dr. Thompson went on to say that in all nations, in which religious thought has been active, the United States has led in tolerance of beliefs. The progress of this country is due largely to freedom of religious thought and attention to the Bible. Dr. Thompson also gave an address at the afternoon session.

The final vesper service of the conference was conducted by Rev. Andrew Blackwood who discussed the teachings of Christ along the line of forgiveness of enemies. Sufficient money was obtained through the collections of the last day to make the conference break even financially. There still remains about two hundred dollars to be raised before next year's conference will be possible. Persons who are willing to assist in this should communicate within a few days with Mr. Frank Hastings or Dr. D. D. Dadds or Dr. Charles P. Proudfit.

LEGION AND LOCAL RED CROSS TO AID SOLDIERS' CLAIMS

Foody Post, American Legion and the Greene County Chapter of the Red Cross will cooperate in the clean-up campaign to be conducted by American Legion, Department of Ohio, to take care of all ex-service men's claims that are now outstanding in Greene County.

Squads composed of a representative from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, an American Legion representative, an agent of the United States Public Health Service, from the Federal Board of Vocational Education and the American Red Cross, will tour Ohio in part of the nation-wide campaign to "mop up" claims.

In connection with the campaign all American Legion Posts will make a canvass of their communities and have all men who have or should have a claim against the Bureau presented. In view of the fact that because of the length of time since the discharge from the service it is difficult to prove service connection with a majority of the claims, men should have a statement from their family physicians regarding their condition, should have affidavits from their former comrades in service or affidavits from persons who are aware of their disability since returning from the service. These affidavits should contain detailed information regarding disability and ability to follow usual gainful occupation. The makers of these affidavits should be specific and should state whether or not it is their opinion that the disability was incurred or aggravated by their military service.

Men applying for Vocational Training should have an affidavit from their employers prior to entering the service and an affidavit from their employers stating whether they are able to follow their former occupation. Men who have claims should get in touch with the Post Service Officer, Jacob Colp, and he will prepare a list giving the names and addresses of such persons and send it to Headquarters so that the Board visiting this city will have advance information and be able to give advance notice to such persons. All claimants who have never filed application for compensation should prepare an application and send it at once to Headquarters.

The itinerary will be iron clad and the Board will arrive on schedule. It will also settle all the claims in each community before continuing to the next place, so even if it is necessary to work both day and night to do so.

Although the time for the arrival of the squad in Xenia and Greene County has not yet been set local authorities will be notified two weeks ahead of the schedule when it will arrive.

NEW MANAGER FOR ELKS' DINING ROOM

With the resignation of John Fuerle, who has been manager of the dining room at the Elks' Club, Clark Constance, of Columbus, has been appointed in his place.

Mr. Constance is an experienced dining room manager, and has been identified with the Dierker Hotel in Columbus for some time. He will assume the management of the local dining room Tuesday.

William Griffith Hite

Wm. Griffith Hite, son of William and Louisa Hite, was born in Jay County, Ind., December 19th, 1882, and after a brief illness, departed this life at Grant Hospital, Columbus, O., Thursday morning, August 4th, 1921, aged 38 years, 9 months and 15 days.

When but a small boy, the family removed from Indiana, and settled at New Jasper, Greene County, Ohio, so that the greater number of the years of his life were spent in this city and vicinity, where he became well known to a great many people as an honorable and industrious citizen. On the 26th day of May, 1904, he was united in marriage with Miss Nora B. Smith, of Jamestown, Ohio, who, with their two children, Phyllis Josephine and Paul Edward, and Mr. Hite's father and one brother mourn his early departure. Of a cheerful and agreeable disposition, he made many friends, and these, with the immediate family feel most keenly his sudden taking away. He was a devoted and loving husband and father, and his friendship was highly prized by a large circle of acquaintances and friends.

During the pastorate of the Rev. O. P. Hoffman, he with his wife became identified with the Trinity Methodist Church in this city, having been a member of the church at New Jasper formerly.

For some years he was a member of the fraternal order of Red Men. The sudden manifestation of the disease made an operation advisable, and to this end he went to the hospital at Columbus, but all to no purpose. He waited the end which came early Thursday morn last, leaving his new home here for his future home in the land where sickness never comes, and pain is unknown.

A precious one from us is gone, A voice we loved is stilled; A place is vacant in our home, Which never can be filled. God in his wisdom has recalled The boon his love has given, And though the body slumbers here, His soul is safe in heaven.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank all our friends for their kindness and help during the death of our loving husband and father, Griffith Hite. We thank all those who contributed the beautiful flowers, also those who so kindly offered their machines, and Mr. Need for his kindness and the words of comfort from Rev. Brown.

Mrs. Hite and Family.

QUOIT CLUB WILL GO TO WILMINGTON

Members of the Xenia Quoit Club will go to Wilmington, Monday evening, to help the new club organize from among employees of the Irwin Augur Bit Company, to dedicate its new grounds.

The dedication tournament was to have been played in Wilmington several days ago but had to be postponed until Monday night. The local quoit tossers will leave here at six o'clock standard time, and it is expected that five or six machine loads will make the trip.

RYE ACREAGE INCREASES

St. Louis, Mo.—While two factions of St. Louis County officials are engaged in the bitterest "liquor war" in the history of Missouri, farmers are going complacently on their way planting the wherewith of "white mule."

The rye acreage in Missouri according to statistics made public by the Census Bureau of the Department of Commerce shows an increase since 1909 of 87,421 acres.

FIRE RAGING IN TOWN UNCHECKED

Wheeling, W. Va., August 15.—The town of Richwood, Nicholas county, W. Va., is burning, according to telephone advice received here this morning. The loss at 9 o'clock was well into the thousands with the fire still beyond control. Call for aid has been made to Summersville and other towns.

Reports at 9 o'clock stated that sixteen buildings had been burned, including five business structures in the heart of the town. Among the burned buildings was the telephone office.

Just as soon as word of the fire was received here five telephone men were started from this city to endeavor to re-establish communication with the burning town and emergency switchboards were stated from Washington D. C. were

LAST RITES PAID MRS. SARAH COYLE

In charge of Rev. L. V. Simms of the Methodist Church of Yellow Springs, funeral services for Mrs. Sarah C. Coyle were held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James H. Harner on the Lower Bellbrook pike, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Pallbearers were Frank Hood, Fred Cassell, Dewey Dutcher and Earl Williams and Lawrence Coyle. A quartette composed of Miss Jessie McDowell, Miss Allie Swadener, Owen Swadener and Frank Willett sang two hymns, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Willett. Miss McDowell sang one solo. Interment was made at Spring Valley.

WOMAN IDENTIFIED WITH LATE MYSTERY

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—Newspaper photographs of Martha Dorothy Fisher Grifford have been identified as those of "Dolly Mason," the "enigma woman" in the Father Heslin murder case by William A. Hightower, who is held at Redwood city charged with the murder of the priest.

Hightower says "Dolly Mason" is the woman who told him she heard a foreigner bragging about slaying and burying a body and of a flapjack sign on the road as a key to the location of the grave. It was this information Hightower asserts that enabled him to discover the grave of the slain priest.

Louis Grifford, divorced husband of the woman known as "Dolly Mason" also has told the police that descriptions of her printed in the newspapers tally with those of his former wife.

Police are seeking the woman to confirm or refute the story told by Hightower.

BANDITS MURDER MAN AFTER THREATS

San Jose, Cal., Aug. 15.—Charles J. Hines, a wealthy candy manufacturer, was shot and killed by one of three men lying in ambush as he left his automobile at his home here early today. The shooting was witnessed by Hines' wife, who told the police she had just left the automobile. Mrs. Hines declared threats had been made against her husband's life.

BIG FINANCIER'S DAUGHTER TO WED WORLD WAR HERO

Miss Alice Trabee Davison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Davison, of New York, whose engagement to Artemus L. Gage, war hero and former captain of the Yale football team, has been announced. Miss Davison is twenty-two years old and during the war was a wireless instructor. Her fiancé was a Navy aviator. He won several decorations for valor while serving in Belgium.

East End News

The delegates attending the Grand Council of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor which met in Detroit, Mich., have returned. The persons as delegates were Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hicks, Mrs. Mary Alexander, Mr. Earl Foster, Mrs. Anna Belle Gilke.

Mrs. Sherly Thomas, East Second Street was agreeably surprised Sunday afternoon, when her sister, Mrs. W. H. Utterback, in company with Mrs. Charles Richardson of Indianapolis, paid her a flying visit of a few hours. They had come to Dayton on an excursion for the day.

Mrs. T. D. Scott of Springfield was the week end guest of Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Lindsey, East Main Street.

Mrs. Jennie Thomas, East Main St., in company with her niece, Miss Jennie Greene, left Sunday evening for Lexington and Versailles, Ky., to visit relatives and friends. Miss Greene will visit her parents while away.

Mrs. Anna Taylor of North Fair street, still continues ill.

Mrs. Laura White of Wilberforce was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs.

Charles Rountree, of Columbus ave. Miss Mary L. Smith, East Main street, who spent her vacation in Dayton, has returned home preparatory to arranging for leaving the early part of September for her work in Langston, Okla.

Henry Smith, East Main street, was called to Jamestown, Saturday on account of the serious illness of his father.

The coming of Mrs. Mattie Anderson to this city from the great community center work of Cleveland, should be a source of inspiration to all who attend. She comes well recommended and with unlimited experience in social service work.

Miss Mabel Tibbles of Dayton, was a Sunday guest of friends in this city.

Mrs. Ella Penn, of Lexington Ave., still continues ill.

The members of Yellow Springs Baptist church surprised their pastor, Bro. Clarence Smith, Thursday evening on his nineteenth birthday with many beautiful and useful tokens of their appreciation.

Grand finale, Star Spangled Banner.

RAINY WEATHER PUT HIM IN BED

His Arms and Legs Hurt All the Time From Rheumatism, Declares Akron Man.

"Tanlac has been worth a fortune to me, and I wouldn't think of being without it," said Isadore J. Brest, of 846 Bell St. Akron, Ohio.

"When I began taking Tanlac I had been suffering for two years with rheumatism and stomach trouble. My legs and arms hurt me all the time, and in damp, rainy weather I just suffered agony and had to stay in the house, and actually had to stay in bed most of the time. My stomach caused me an awful lot of trouble, and I could hardly eat anything."

"Well, I certainly did suffer, but a friend of mine finally got me to try Tanlac, and I just want everybody to know how it helped me. My stomach is in such good shape my appetite is better than it ever was before, and my rheumatism has left me entirely. I have gained in weight and feel many years younger. I do my work just as easily as I did when I was a boy, and can eat anything I want the same as I did years ago. Tanlac certainly is wonderful!"

"Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill and by leading druggists everywhere."

CHAUTAUQUA NOW OVER AT MARION

Marion, O., Aug. 15.—It was said authoritatively today that the Marion county Chautauqua which was inaugurated 15 years ago was a thing of the past. A report submitted to the directors showed that the 1921 assembly had a deficit of $1,223.64, half of which was voluntarily paid by merchants of this city. Marion has one of the finest Chautauqua pavilions in the country. It was in this pavilion that Warren G. Harding was notified of his nomination for the presidency by the Chicago Republican convention. Mr. Harding was one of the chief organizers of the Marion county Chautauqua Company, but has not taken an active interest in it for years on account of absence from Marion.

DECISION RESERVED
New York, August 15.—Owing to the failure of opposing counsel to agree on a choice for a receiver for the United States Mail Steamship Company Judge Manton in the federal court here today reserved decision on the appointment.

ALIENS ATTEMPT TO EVADE LAW WHICH IS NOW INEXISTENT

New York.—Wohn we were kids we used to play a game called "Ten Steps," in which whoever was "it" stood with closed eyes and counted rapidly to ten, the others rushing from a starting point in an effort to be first to the counter. Anyone caught moving after ten had been counted had to go back and start over.

It is much the same game which would-be immigrants to the United States play these days. The rules are the new "1-5 of 3 per cent" law which sounds like beer but which is really an attempt to check immigration. Olga and Carlo and Boris start from the other side and rush for the land of the free, trying to reach Ellis Island before the quota man says "ten." If he catches them on the move they have to go back and try all over again the first of next month.

The new law which has been effective for about two months has certainly jizzed up the business of immigration. It provides that the number of immigrants from any one country be limited to 3 per cent of that nation's 1910 population. And it has a joker which says that only 1-5 of that 3 per cent shall come in in any one month.

Now with a country like Germany which had about a million population in 1910 and has sent less than 500 here since the law became effective last June, the new restrictions don't matter very much. But when it comes to Greece, Poland, Turkey and some of the smaller nations, they are eating up their quotas in record time and hollering for more. The United States is still to them the land of freedom and the report that their coming here is about to be curtailed has raised an awful furor among its intending immigrants.

If the law merely stipulated that when a nation had sent us 3 per cent of its 1910 population no more would be admitted there would be no difficulty; the overflow could simply be shipped back home, with Uncle Sam's regrets. But this 1-5 of 3 per cent each month business has them all guessing or did at first.

It didn't take the wily foreigner long to catch onto the joker and turn the trick against us. Eight little nations used up their quotas during July which was the first month. When it came around toward the last of the month, did the liners bringing immigrants to this country put in, learn they were too late because the month's quota was full and put back. They did not.

Much to the disgust, even to the fury, of some hundreds of American citizens who happened to be passengers, eight big transatlantic liners due late in July calmly delayed their arrival in New York until the first of the month. One, the Megall Hellas, a Greek liner, with 130 Americans aboard, arrived off Fire Island July 29 and despite the rage and hair tearing of the United States citizens, dropped anchor and stayed there just outside the three-mile limit, until August dawned.

Several other liners, one big one from Italy among them, followed suit. On the stroke of midnight when July became August, there was a grand rush across the line. With a tooting of whistles the immigrant bearing cavalcade swept down upon Ellis Island. Their passengers would have been in excess of the first month's quota but this was August now, and that was another matter.

It is reasonable to suppose, immigration officials say, that this performance will be repeated, around September 1 and again the first of each month until at midnight November 30, the last grand rush begins.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

Those who madly rush through life should stop awhile and count the cost, for hurrying is losing time. All time that is not enjoyed is lost.

To cope with the situation it has been decided by local officials that all surplus immigrants shall be admitted upon personal bonds. If they can find them until October 1, it is hoped that a Federal law, somewhat less exciting, will be enacted before that time. It is believed that the framers of the present measure which is temporary, failed to foresee the jazy effects of their legislation.

So the immigrants who wait outside the line until the new month begins are really wasting their time, because they could get in any way. But they don't know it—so the game is just as exciting as though it were real.

TWO ARE CAPTURED

Martins Ferry, August 13.—Officers raided a shack near Colerain and captured two men on charges of violating prohibition laws. A week later, when they went to the place in search of a third man who escaped, they found the wife and five children, the oldest only eight years old, of one of the arrested men, had been living a week or green apples. Authorities were notified and provided food for the family.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

CHOOSING YOUR PORTIERES
I am constantly receiving letters from women readers who wish me to help them choose their portieres. The following chat may be of help: I will first deal with the more expensive hangings—which, alas, few of us can have! These are: plush, velvet, velour and silk brocade. Since the World War it is hard to obtain double-faced velours; so, in considering velour portieres, one must figure in the cost of a silk lining for them (to cover the cotton back of the single-faced velour) and this of course brings up the total price of the portieres. Only a chosen few of us can afford to put two lengths of single-faced velour back to back—thus doing away with a silk lining. The next step down in the scale of prices, brings us to silk brocades. These, too, are beyond the reach of most of us, not only because they are in themselves expensive but also because they must be supported by costly rugs furniture and general decoration. Draperies of silk brocade must be "lived up to!"

Our next downward step brings us to poplins, monks' cloth and burlap. These materials require no lining; and, unlike the velours and brocades, they are not great dust-catchers and may be vigorously beaten when they do need cleaning. They are a "good buy."

RELIEF FOR VIENNA

Vienna.—Has Vienna's soaring H. C. L. reached the zenith? anxiously inquires the Vienna Neue Presse, in proclaiming the good news that for the first time in years a turn has come in prices. Potatoes and sugar are cheaper, there are indications that other foodstuffs will fall.

Tomorrow—A Stuffed Haddock Dinner.

THE NEW GENERATION

BY JANE PHELPS

MARGARET FACES A NEW PROBLEM

Almost hysterical, Margaret dropped into the vacant hammock. What a child! So she thought as she recalled Joan's remark—
"Margaret kisses very nicely. Why don't you kiss Mumsie, Malcolm?"
"Poor Malcolm!" Margaret said aloud, then once more laughed until the tears came. But the incident had quickened in her mind the need of keeping Joan so sure of her mother that no idea of withholding from her anything that happened would ever occur to the child.

"Aren't they good?" she asked a moment later as she joined Joan and Malcolm taking a cake in her hand and munching it as they were doing.

"Um—um—" was all Malcolm was capable of, his mouth full.

"You must come to see Joan and me often, Malcolm. Hannah makes lots of goodies we will like to share with you."

"You bet I will! I mean—of course I will, and thank you, Mrs. Hayden." Margaret laughed with the children at Malcolm's embarrassment. His honest "you bet I will!" had cleared the air.

He remained a while longer, while Joan played and all three sang college songs. When he left Margaret repeated her invitation to come again, and this time Malcolm answered in a well-mannered way, and again thanked her.

Left alone with Joan, Margaret tentatively remarked:
"Malcolm Frost is a nice boy. I like him."

"So do I, Mumsie. I think perhaps I will marry him."
"You do?"
"Yes. You see I must have a father to earn money," Joan said referring to the conversation she had had with Gloria.

"That isn't always necessary, dear. Nowadays women earn money, too, especially college girls. If we lived in one of the large cities you would know this, but in small places women are not so often employed."

"If I go to college, then I can earn the money and not have to have a father."

"Yes, if when you have finished you feel that you want to. By that time you may have changed your mind, or perhaps we can travel, you and I." It was the first time Margaret had spoken of the plan so near her heart. "Now suppose we go to bed and leave the discussion of all these things until another time."

"All right, Mumsie! Perhaps I'll travel with you—but I'm not sure I shouldn't like a father to earn money."

As Margaret kissed her goodnight she wished Gloria had not put the idea of a "father who earned money" into Joan's mind. Joan had evidently mixed the husband and father relation, thinking them one and the same.

"Oh well, everything will come out all right, it is bound to," she said aloud, as she turned off the light. Yet in spite of her expressed belief it was long before she slept, and when she did she dreamed of kissing small boys, swinging in hammocks and eating cookies. Queer dreams for a woman as "old" as she, so Joan said when she recounted them at the breakfast table.

For a time Margaret ceased worrying about boys, Malcolm Frost in particular. He came often, kissed her and Joan frankly, swung in the hammock with the little bobbed head resting on his shoulder while Margaret sat near, and usually wound up by eating a great plateful of Hannah's cakes before he went home.

"He isn't a bit smart, that's why I let him come," Joan naively remarked, apropos of nothing.

"So you don't like 'smarty' boys?" Margaret did not pretend to misunderstand.

"No! They're horrid when they think they are smart. I can't bear them around. Clarence Tobin is that kind. He's just the freshest thing ever was. I like Edna (his sister) awfully well, but Clarence is the limit. He asks the foolish questions. Like 'What animal did Moses let go into the Ark first?' when everybody knows that Noah built the ark. Then if you ask him anything like: 'What's that you have, Clarence?' when it is perhaps just paper with something written on it—he'll say as smartly as can be: 'Why, that's a bicycle, of course!' I guess if boys knew how such things made girls hate them they wouldn't be so smart."

"Don't be too hard on the boys, dear. Perhaps they also see things about the girls they don't like."

"We don't try to be smart! Not one of us."

FLOODS TAKE TOLL

Rome, August 12.—Many lives have been lost and heavy damage done by floods in northern Trentino. The Isarco river is out of its banks and many villages and much valuable farming land are under water.

Camels are made for Men who Think for Themselves

Such folks know real quality—and DEMAND it.

They prefer Camels because Camels give them the smoothest, mellowest smoke they can buy—because they love the mild, rich flavor of choicest tobaccos, perfectly blended—and because Camels leave NO CIGARETTY AFTERTASTE.

Like every man who does his own thinking, you want fine tobacco in your cigarettes. You'll find it in Camels.

And, mind you, no flashy package just for show. No extra wrappers! No costly frills. These things don't improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons.

But QUALITY! Listen! That's CAMELS!
